

GORDON MAKES ARREST

Naval Officer Fails to Obey Orders and Gets Into Trouble at Great Lakes, Illinois

Gordon Card, son of Dr. and Mrs. H. S. Card, who enlisted in the navy a few months ago and is in training at Great Lakes, Ill., was recently promoted to assistant master at arms and has charge of large crews of men assigned to various details.

Early last week the training station was honored by a visit from Secretary of the Navy Daniels and in anticipation of the distinguished guest's arrival the Stevens Point sailor boy, who is scarcely 18 years of age, was given the duty of patrolling the steps leading to headquarters building, with positive instructions that no one should be permitted to loiter thereon.

Gordon had no difficulty in keeping the large space clear until a naval officer and his wife strolled there and sat on the landing. The guard, in a polite manner, asked them to move on but the officer paid no attention to this request. Gordon returned in just two minutes and repeated his orders, but was answered by a blow on the chest. Although disconcerted for a second or two, Gordon retained his temper and, drawing his sword, tapped the fellow lightly on the shoulder and placed him under arrest. He was escorted to the guardhouse and kept under confinement until next morning, when a courtmartial was held.

Card and two other witnesses of the assault testified to the facts and as a result of their evidence the culprit was deprived of his official title and given orders to report for sea duty within 48 hours.

As a partial reward for his cool judgment, Gordon was commended by the officers and also presented with a ticket for a six-course banquet tendered Secretary Daniels that evening. He made personal use of the pastebord and was seated quite close to the cabinet member.

MRS. HENRY KOCH DIES

Mrs. Henry Koch, a resident of this city about fifteen years ago, died at her home in Milwaukee on Sept. 24. She had been in poor health for some time and underwent a couple of operations, one only a short time before her death, but from which she rallied and was able to go to her home from the hospital. Only the day before her death she wrote a card to Miss Amelia Port of this city.

Mr. Koch was for many years employed as a cigar maker by Louis Port, the two men having known each other from boyhood when they were residents of Milwaukee. Mr. and Mrs. Koch were married at Wauburn and for a number of years made their home on Brawley street in this city.

DEDICATION POSTPONED

Delay in Getting Stars for Portage County Service Flag Compels Postponement of Dedicatory Exercises

The proposed formal dedication of the Portage county service flag under the auspices of the Soldiers' Memorial Association, which was to take place next Saturday, Oct. 12th, is postponed until some date in November, probably the 9th.

The flag will contain upwards of 1,400 stars to represent the boys who have gone out from this county, and it is a difficult matter to get sufficient material out of which to cut these stars. The placing of them will also take much time, and therefore it is found necessary to delay the program until next month.

Full announcement will be made in due time.

ATTENDING U. OF M.

Clinton McCreedy, Robt. Urbahn and Robt. Norington have gone to Minneapolis to enter the University of Minnesota as members of the S. A. T. C., all having passed the physical examinations which they recently underwent. The delay in entering until this time was due to the fact that the school was not opened sooner as a safeguard against the Spanish flu epidemic.

BIG BANK DEPOSITS

Over Three and One-half Millions in Portage County Institutions at Close of Business Aug. 31

Notwithstanding the numerous Liberty Loan and War Savings Stamp drives which have taken thousands of dollars out of Portage county banks, the deposits are holding up remarkably well and when statements were called for on Aug. 31st the eleven financial institutions in this district reported combined deposits of $3,602,725.48. HERE FROM LOS ANGELES

Mr. and Mrs. M. F. Gutsch of Los Angeles, Cal., arrived in the city Tuesday and will remain until Friday, visiting at the home of the lady's sister, Mrs. Frank Abb, 636 Strong's avenue. The ladies are daughters of Ralph Harvey, who is 97 years of age and who makes his home with another daughter, Mrs. Henry Bergholte, 438 Normal avenue. Mr. and Mrs. Gutsch had been making a short visit at Sheboygan, Mr. Gutsch's old home, before coming here, and they came east on business which the gentleman was obliged to attend to.

CONFERENCE NEXT WEEK

In order to avoid any interference with the work of the various committees of the Fourth Liberty Loan, the twenty-second annual state conference of the Wisconsin D. A. R., called to convene at Janesville Oct. 10th and 11th, has been postponed to Thursday and Friday of next week, Oct. 17th and 18th. By virtue of her office as regent, Mrs. W. W. Mitchell is a regularly accredited delegate. The first alternate is Miss Eva Webb and two other alternates are Mrs. Mary Richards and Mrs. A. P. Een, the latter of Amherst. All of the ladies above named may attend the important gathering.

ARRESTED IN MICHIGAN

Young Man Steals Ring From Local Girl and is Caught Near Pontiac—Brought Here Monday

O. A. Swanson, whose home is in a suburb of Chicago but who spent several weeks here this summer, was arrested near Pontiac, Mich., last Saturday by Deputy Sheriff John E. Leahy. Swanson is charged with grand larceny upon complaint of Miss Anna Egenhofer, stenographer in A. L. Smongeski's law office, who alleges that he stole her diamond ring.

After considerable shrewd detective work upon the part of local officials it was learned that Swanson had gone from here to a small hamlet near Pontiac, and his arrest followed.

The prisoner was asked to waive extradition papers, but refused to do so and therefore Mr. Leahy first went to Madison to get the necessary authority from Gov. Philipp. Duplicate copies of certain affidavits were required by the Madison authorities, which caused a couple of days' delay before they could be mailed from here.

When the requisition was finally secured, Sheriff Leahy proceeded to Lansing, to get the Michigan governor's signature and then secured his prisoner at Pontiac.

They arrived here Monday morning, when Swanson was arraigned before Judge Murat. Although substantially admitting his guilt and returning the ring, he entered a formal plea of not guilty and had the case adjourned one week.

The expenses thus far incurred amount to about $150, which Swanson agrees to pay, and if the money is secured it is probable that the action will be dismissed. His arrest and incarceration for ten days and having to "put up" this substantial sum may be deemed sufficient punishment by the court.

UNION OFFICERS

New state officers of the W. C. T. U., elected at the annual convention held in Rhinelander this week, are as follows: President, Mrs. Mary Scott Johnson, Superior; corresponding secretary, Mrs. E. W. Follette, Marshfield; recording secretary, Miss Julia Hutchinson, Waupaca, and treasurer, Mrs. Ida M. Cook, Green Bay.

DIES AT TACOMA

Word has been received by friends here of the death of Thos. Jacobson of Tacoma, Wash., which occurred Sept. 26. Mr. Jacobson was the husband of Miss Sadie Eldredge, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ira L. Eldredge formerly of this city. The Eldredges family moved from this city to Seattle in 1907, and a couple of years later, the older daughter, Miss Sadie, was married to Mr. Jacobson, who was a former resident of Neenah, Wis. They thereafter made their home at Tacoma, Wash. They had no children.

ATHLETICS AT NORMAL

Special emphasis is placed this year on out-of-door athletics for the young women of the Normal school. Just now the main interest is in the game of hockey, which is being played by the young women on the grounds near the Third ward school.

Hockey clubs have been organized on the same basis as last year, and, hopefully, the out-of-door activities will make for the physical health of the young women as well as better enable them to handle these lines of work when they go out to teach.

MRS. HARRIET WALLACE MEET AT P. O. FRIDAY

Daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Green Dies in Chicago Monday Evening—Funeral Today

"Harriet Green Wallace passed away last evening of pneumonia, following an attack of influenza. Funeral Wednesday afternoon. Please inform our friends.

"H. L. Green."

The above message, received by Judge Byron B. Park, yesterday, will cause many a heartache among Stevens Point people who knew the young matron or are acquainted with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Henry L. Green.

As most of our readers remember, Mr. Green was a boyhood resident of Stevens Point and although he left here many years ago, has always retained a kindly interest in the city and makes occasional visits to the old home town. One of his companions on several of these trips had been his older daughter, Harriet, a bright, prepossessing young lady who inherited many of her father's characteristics and in consequence she, too, had since been able to class scores of our people as good friends.

Miss Green's last visit to our city was a couple of years ago, and a few months later she married Mr. Wallace, also of Chicago. No details regarding her illness have been received here but it is assumed that it was of short duration.

The parents are comforted in their profound grief by one son, Burchard, and a daughter, Miss Marion Green.

As a slight token of sympathy the members of the Old White School Association, of which Mr. Green is president, ordered a floral emblem sent to the Wallace home.

GOES EAST FOR WINTER

Miss Mina Combs left on the early train this morning for Philadelphia and may spend the winter in the Pennsylvania metropolis. One of her sisters, Mrs. Stella Horn, is district manager for the Sterilizer company in that city and two younger sisters have also been there for the past year. Miss Combs was employed by French, Campbell & Co. for several years.

MEETING AT WAUSAU

The Stevens Point Normal will be well represented at the meeting of the Central Wisconsin Teachers' Association at Wausau to be held Friday and Saturday of this week. Prof. O. W. Neale has charge of the Rural school section, and Mrs. Etta B. Hoffman of the kindergarten round table. Prof. F. S. Hyer is a member of the executive committee. Pres. John F. Sims will speak twice, first on the National Education Association and second on "What the Rural Life Conference Brought to Wisconsin." Prof. A. J. Herrick will speak to the high school session on "What the Normal School Expects of the High School in Science Preparation."

Many of the members of the faculty will attend.

NO FLU. EPIDEMIC HERE

Grip Germ Has Not Gained Foothold in Stevens Point and Every Precaution Is Urged to Prevent It

While a few cases of Spanish influenza have been reported in this city, the disease has not assumed the proportion of an epidemic, and it is sincerely hoped that it will not. Every precaution should be taken to stamp out the disease.

One physician called this afternoon reported ten or twelve cases, another had none, while another said he had about fifty, but none of them serious. All of the doctors could not be reached this afternoon.

Misses Etta Shumway, Lydia Clark, Dorothy Hamilton, Evelyn West and Alice Rogers, teachers in our city schools, are absent today on account of illness, but there are not many colds, generally the first stage of the grippe or influenza, among the children attending the various schools of the city.

A few precautions to avoid the epidemic are given below:
Keep away from all known cases of influenza and colds.
Avoid all public gatherings and crowded street cars.

Use your handkerchief if you must cough, sneeze or expectorate.

Quit shaking hands. Ninety per cent of all contagious disease is spread by way of the hands. Keep them clean and away from your mouth.

Get plenty of fresh air day and night. Eat enough of plain but nourishing food and take sufficient rest at night.

Give prompt attention to an ongoing illness. Go to bed at once and call a doctor.

Do not consider yourself recovered until your doctor tells you so. Serious complications are largely due to neglect to do so.

Do not spit on the floor or sidewalk and see that others obey this rule.

Do not let your neighbors prescribe for you and do not use quack medicines.

MOTHER DIES

Prof. C. F. Watson of the Normal was called away October 2 on account of the death of his mother at Livingston, Wis. Students and faculty sympathize with him in his bereavement.

MEET AT P. O. FRIDAY

There Will Be Another Community Gathering To Boost Liberty Loan—Band Concert and Singing

The community program carried out in front of the postoffice last Friday evening under the direction of Mrs. E. T. Smith, chairman of the woman's department of the Fourth Liberty Loan, met with such an enthusiastic response that it has been decided to duplicate it next Friday evening at the same time and place.

Weber's band, which is always generous with its services, has again volunteered to appear on the program, which in itself is enough to draw a big crowd, and the High school girls' chorus will be there with their enthusiasm and inspiration to lead the community singing. Other entertaining features will be on the program, and it is hoped that everyone will come out and help make this Liberty Loan meeting a success. At this time announcement will be made of the total of the county's quota raised up to that time. It is very probable that a similar meeting will be held again next week on Friday evening.

It is hoped that all who attend the meetings will join in the chorus singing.

At last Friday evening's meeting the streets were well filled and all enjoyed the program. Weber's band gave a splendid concert and later accompanied the community singing. The songs sung in chorus were "America," "On Wisconsin," "Over There," "Keep the Home Fires Burning" and "The Star Spangled Banner." The girls' chorus, under the direction of Miss Edna V. Becker, supervisor of music in the public schools, sang "Defend America," "For Your Boy and My Boy," and "Good Morning, Mr. Zip." They sang with sweetness and energy and especially did the latter characteristic assert itself when they gave their school yell.

Carl S. Orthman, who assisted Mrs. Smith in preparing the program, had a banner on display on which was painted Portage county's quota, the total raised up to Friday evening, and a thermometer indicating the height of the sales thus far reached. The line will be raised for next Friday's meeting and it is hoped that it will be very near the top.

J. R. Pfiffer, county chairman of the loan, made a strong and effective plea to the city people to come across with larger subscriptions, as the county districts were far behind their quota. Up to that time the entire county including the city, had subscribed only $539,150 of its $1,060,550 quota.

TRANSFERRED TO SEATTLE

J. W. Merry, who left here a few weeks ago for Seattle, Wash., to join his family, who went west in the early fall, has been transferred to the Seattle carrier service and assigned to University station No. 74. When Mr. Merry went away he has not definitely concluded to remain longer than next spring, but it is evident that the climate and country are to his liking, and an opportunity of getting into the regular service there presenting itself, he accepted.

HALF-MILLION TO RAISE

Up to Last Evening, Portage County Had Subscribed Only $739,900 in Liberty Loan Bonds

A telegram sent by Chairman J. R. Pfiffer to the 7th reserve district headquarters in Chicago, last night, stated that Portage county's Liberty Loan subscriptions up to date amounted to $739,900.

As the county's quota is $1,060,550, it will be necessary to raise another half million dollars by the end of next week.

It is estimated that the towns and rural communities have fallen behind to the extent of $200,000, but this sum may be secured from people who failed to subscribe in proportion to their ability. Allotments have been mailed from local headquarters and it is expected that all receiving such will "come across."

Booster meetings will be held in Stockton, Sharon, New Hope, Alban and Orion next Sunday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock, and on Monday evening at 8 o'clock there will be a meeting at the Almond town hall. Government representatives will attend each of these gatherings and deliver addresses.

NOTES ON S. A. T. C.

Sixty students are now enrolled in the Students' Army Training Corps at the Normal. Many of these are former students of the school. Raymond Pike has been appointed by Lieut. Kauffman as First Sergeant. Dr. C. von Neupner, Dr. and Dr. E. H. Rogers are the contract surgeons connected with the corps and are on duty at the barracks each day.

The citizens of Stevens Point will be much interested in the ceremonies connected with the retreat which is held every evening at 8 o'clock. The retreat has to do with the lowering of the colors while the members of the corps all assemble at that time and observe the impressive ceremony.

HOLDING EXAMINATIONS

A. N. Berens left for Madison the first of the week to assist other members of the barbers' board in examining applicants for a state license. The board will also hold a quiz at La Crosse on Thursday and Friday.

ST. JOSEPH'S THRIFT CLUB

The members of St. Joseph's War Savings Society made a very good showing during the month of September, when thrift and war savings stamps amounting to $478.80 were purchased. The committee in charge of the sale of the stamps, composed of the treasurer, Mike Walter, secretary, Jos. Miller, and Misses Esther Herman and Eva Koehl, is present at the church each Sunday to accommodate all who wish to purchase. The society is composed of members of St. Joseph's congregation.

QUITS BARBER BUSINESS

Frank Peickert has closed his barber shop in the Woodman building, corner Strong's avenue and Ellis street, and as soon as the fixtures are removed the room will be occupied by Chas. H. Currier, the taxi cab man. Mr. Peickert and J. Arthur Webb expect to leave tonight or tomorrow for northern Wisconsin on a two or three weeks' outing along the Chippewa river.

Shortly after his return here Frank will go west to spend the winter and may decide to make his permanent home near the Pacific coast.

FARMERS BUILD SILOS

Those of Cement Block Variety Being Erected on Grayson and Emig Farms

A cement block silo 38 feet in height and 12 feet in diameter is now being erected on Nels Grayson's farm near Nelsonville. Jas. W. Moxon of this city furnished the blocks and is supervising their erection. Mr. Grayson is one of the prominent Guernsey breeders in that section and when the new silo is completed he will be better than ever prepared to care for his large herd. A milk house, chicken coop and cistern, all of cement, may also be built on the Grayson farm this fall.

Mr. Moxon has now practically completed the largest silo owned in Portage county, its dimensions being 39 feet above ground and 15 feet in diameter. This is on the farm of C. H. Emig, near Rudolph, and is already filled with ensilage to feed Mr. Emig's herd of Holstein cattle. It is a matter of interest to note that included in this herd is a cow which produces 55 pounds of milk per day and the test shows a higher percentage of butter fat than any other animal in the state.

POWER HOUSE COMPLETED

The new power house of the Bukolt manufacturing plant is completed, and were it not for the shortage of labor, would soon be in running order. However, because the Minneapolis concern from which a new generator has been ordered, is rushed with government work and, therefore, cannot get other work out, the generator has not yet arrived, and a new engine, which is here, cannot be installed because of a shortage of men to do the work, which will require a large number of workmen on account of the size and weight of the machine.

M. Bukolt has recently received a patent on an improvement on the tire protector he is manufacturing, and the rights are reserved for the United States and Canada.

LIEUT. TIPPET MAKES SACRIFICE

Son of Former Local Methodist Pastor Killed in Action in France.

September 12
Many friends in this city will learn with sorrow of the death of Lieut. Ralph Tippet, son of Rev. and Mrs. J. H. Tippet of Appleton. The family lived in this city about twenty years ago, when Rev. Tippet was pastor of the M. E. church. They came here from Green Bay, and after a few years' residence here, Mr. Tippet was transferred to Appleton, where for many years he was district superintendent of the Methodist church.

Another son of Rev. and Mrs. Tippet, Walter Tippet, taught science in the local high school in 1915-16, and is now a lieutenant with the American forces in France. It has been reported that he has recently been severely wounded.

The Appleton Crescent, Oct. 8, gives the following account of Ralph Tippet's death:

Another Appleton boy has made the supreme sacrifice, and another gold star gleams on the community's service flag.

Lieut. Ralph Tippet, son of J. H. and Mrs. J. H. Tippet, Parker street, was killed in action in France, September 12, according to information received by his father this morning from the war department in Washington, D. C. He was an officer of Co. E, 11th Infantry regiment, and had been in France since July 1st after his training.

The fallen officer was 27 years of age, a graduate of Lawrence college, class of 1913, and a chemist when he broke out and he entered an officers' training camp. He leaves three brothers, Charles at Eau Claire, Walter, a lieutenant with the American forces in France, and Earl, a lieutenant at Camp Custer. He was a splendid young man, highly esteemed.

Mrs. Tippet was attending a missionary meeting in Milwaukee when news of her son's death reached the home here. The Rev. Mr. Tippet joined her in Milwaukee today.

SPANISH FLU VICTIMS

Dread Epidemic Claims Its Quota From Portage County—Takes Five Within Week

The casualties are coming home to Portage county and the victims have been slain not by shot and shell, but by the dread Spanish influenza. Those who have been called are Almer Knutson of Rosholt, John Poliwooda of Mill Creek, Irvin Russell of Buena Vista, Ben Brill and Byron Philbrick of this city.

Almer Knutson died at the hospital at Camp Grant last Wednesday afternoon, official notice to this effect having been received by his father, Even Knutson of Rosholt, that day. The body was shipped to his home for burial, but more than a little annoyance was experienced here before its arrival because relatives were unable to ascertain the time for arrival and the route over which it was to be shipped.

The services of County Clerk A. E. Bourn were enlisted to secure information from the camp as to what disposition had been made of the body, but because of the extra amount of work in camp resulting from the epidemic, it was impossible to secure the definite information. However, the remains arrived here Saturday night on the Portage train and were taken to Rosholt, where the funeral was held Monday.

Almer Knutson was born in New Hope, 25 years ago last Sept. 18. He was sent to Camp Grant with the large contingent of men who left here on the 12th of July and at the time of being drafted claimed exemption because of heart trouble. His claim was not allowed by the local examining board and he also passed the examination at Camp Grant. However, he was later taken sick at camp and suffered from heart trouble, and when news of his death was received, it was at first believed that it resulted from this affliction.

A brother of the deceased young man, Gregor Knutson, is also in the service and is believed to be now in France.

John Poliwooda, whose mother, Mrs. Thomas Poliwooda, resides at Mill Creek, died at an army camp near Gettysburg, Pa., a message to this effect having been received here on Thursday. The body was brought to the city Tuesday and taken directly to the family home at Mill Creek, where the funeral was held from St. Bartholemew's church at 9 o'clock this morning.

The deceased soldier is survived by his mother, two sisters, Mrs. Leo Pavlowski of this city and Miss Doris Poliwooda at home and two brothers, Martin and Thomas, also at home. He was 28 years of age and was born in Appleton last July as a machinist. He was sent to a training school at Indiana and later to Carnegie Institute at Philadelphia and from there was transferred to the camp at Gettysburg.

Irvin Russell died at Sweeney Auto School, Kansas City, Mo., and the body has been sent here for burial at his old home. He was a son of Mrs. Wm. Russell of the town of Buena Vista, south of Keene. His father died two years ago. Irvin Russell was born July 6, 1893, and he enlisted as a volunteer and was sent to the Sweeney auto school last Aug. 13.

The remains arrived on Soo train No. 1 this morning and was taken directly to the family home from where the funeral will be held tomorrow.

Ben J. Brill died at Great Lakes naval station at 11 o'clock last Monday morning. He had been ill for twelve days, and his folks here were notified immediately and were kept informed of his condition daily by telegram.

He was home on a furlough three weeks ago and at that time was enthusiastic in his praise of the treatment he was receiving in the service and said he never felt better in his life. But the dread epidemic took hold of him and he became one of its victims.

Ben J. Brill was born in this city May 3, 1891, and had lived here continuously until about six years ago, since which time he was employed at other points. He resided at 407 1/2 E. 1st and enlisted in the navy from that place last July 12.

He is survived by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Brill, 321 E. 5th avenue, and four brothers and three sisters, as follows: Frank, George, Nicholas and Tom, Mrs. John Gress and Miss Irene of this city and Mrs. Chas. Anderson of Chicago.

The remains arrived here over the Soo line last night and were taken to the family home. Funeral services will be held at St. Peter's church at 8 o'clock Thursday morning. The interment will be in the parish cemetery.

Ben Philbrick was a member of the local high school and died last Sunday. He was a son of Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert Philbrick of Wisconsin avenue, the father, and brother of his son's illness, Mrs. Philbrick immediately went to Camp Grant and arrived too late to see her boy alive. Mr. Philbrick, who had been employed on the farm of Dr. Myron Ross, near Kilbourn, received the message announcing his son's death on Monday and came here on the Portage train that night to make arrangements for the funeral.

The young man was not registered from Portage county.

BROWN IS FAVORITE

Pres. Johnson of Amherst Loyalty Legion Supports John W. Brown for Congress and is Criticized

John H. Johnson is president of Amherst chapter, Wisconsin Loyalty Legion, and is also one of the many good citizens of that village who is supporting the loyalty candidate for congress, John W. Brown of Stevens Point. Amherst has a few rookiered Republicans who wouldn't vote for a Democrat under any conditions, and it is reported that some of these people were inclined to criticize Mr. Johnson, the latter thereupon resigned, but the executive committee met on Sept. 28th and refused to accept his resignation. The result of their action is embodied in the following resolutions:

Whereas, John H. Johnson, president of the Amherst chapter of the Wisconsin Loyalty Legion, has tendered his resignation as president of the Amherst chapter, because certain members of the chapter, who were supporting E. E. Browne for congress, criticized his action in supporting John W. Brown as a candidate for congress in this 8th congressional district, while president of the chapter;

Resolved, by the executive committee of the Amherst chapter that in their opinion the president of said chapter has an undisputed right to support whatever candidate he chooses for member of congress in this district, so long as the candidate he supports be a man whose loyalty is above suspicion;

Resolved, therefore, by the executive committee of said Amherst chapter that the resignation of John H. Johnson as president be not accepted and that he be commended for laying aside all party bias at this time and supporting any loyal candidate that his judgment dictates; and we believe it to be for the best interests of all to refuse to accept Mr. Johnson's resignation.

Done by executive committee and Henry N. Olson, vice president of Amherst chapter of Wisconsin Loyalty Legion.

IS IN A SERIOUS CONDITION

Mrs. M. O'Keefe of Custer spent part of last week at Dorchester, going up to visit her brother, Dennis Loughlin, who owns a choice farm near that village. Mr. Loughlin is in very poor health with heart trouble, and it is probable he may not live more than a few months. The gentleman is a former resident of the town of Stockton and has many old friends throughout the county who will be grieved to learn of his serious condition.

SCHMIDT IS POSTMASTER

Milladore Merchant Will Look After Mail Matter in That Village—Office Moved

Geo. J. Schmidt, senior member of the Milladore Mercantile Co., has been appointed postmaster at Milladore and assumed the duties of this office last week. The former postmaster there was Chas. L. Peterson, who died a year ago and since that time the position was filled by his sister, Miss Jennie Peterson. It was the practically unanimous wish of the patrons that she take the required civil service examination for appointment as her brother's successor, but the young lady decided to retire to private life. Mr. Schmidt's first office in the town held at Marshall last winter and last long expected to be settled, came only a few days ago.

The office is located in the Peterson building, where Mr. Schmidt will be assisted by Miss Emma Bergan.

Hardware Insurance Companies, With Headquarters Here. Buy Big Block of Bonds

The Hardware Dealers' Mutual Fire Insurance Co. and the Hardware Liability Insurance Co., two concerns under practically one management and whose headquarters are in the McDonald brick block on Strongs avenue, have subscribed $90,000 to the Fourth Liberty Loan, the subscription being credited to Portage county's quota.

Favorable conditions the past six months in both the fire and liability company made it possible for them to invest at this time this portion of their rapidly increasing surplus. Besides accumulating this amount they have returned to policyholders $80,000 in the form of dividends during the same period. With this subscription they will own Liberty Bonds to the amount of $165,000; $20,000 of the 1st, $20,000 of the 2nd, $35,000 of the 3rd and $90,000 of the 4th. In addition to the Liberty Bonds they own a nice bunch of Wisconsin municipals amounting to $300,000.

It's nice to have such institutions in our midst that can take nearly one-tenth of Portage county's allotment, and Manager Jacobs is to be congratulated on such a splendid showing. Six former employees are now in the service of the government; three in the army and three have positions at Washington, D. C. The office force now comprises 24 persons.

WAS EQUAL TO EMERGENCY

Old Ottem spent most of last week at Amherst Junction, where he has concrete walks in front of residence property. Tax car loads of sand and gravel had been ordered for this purpose and Mr. Ottem expected that the material would be on track there when he arrived. Instead, word was received that these shipments were "passed as non-essential unless needed for government work, and therefore Mr. Ottem was compelled to make other arrangements. He lost no time but commandeered a number of farmers' rigs and had gravel hauled from a nearby pit.

APPLES AND ONIONS

Mr. and Mrs. Geo. H. Worden of Linwood were in the city last Friday and brought in some splendid specimens of crops raised on their farm. Some of the apples, which taste as good as they look, measure eleven and one-half and twelve inches in circumference, and onions, which are of the red and yellow globe varieties average a pound a piece. They have a quantity of the fruit and vegetable which they are offering for sale.

AUTO WHEEL HITS CHILD

Rear Tire on Racing Car at North Platte, Neb., Flies Off and Crushes Boy's Skull

Chester Floyd Wheaton, born in the town of Eau Claire ten years ago the 30th of last June, was instantly killed at North Platte, Neb., on Sept. 28th, when the rear wheel of a racing car flew off and struck him on the head, crushing his skull. The body was brought to his old home last week by his step-father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Musil, and laid to rest in the Eau Claire cemetery.

A detailed account of the sad happening is reprinted from last Thursday's issue of the Hayes Center (Neb.) Times-Republican:

A dark cloud hung over this little village when a telegram was received here Saturday evening conveying the sad news of the terrible accident which blotted out the life of one of our little boys, the accident occurring Saturday afternoon at 3 o'clock at the fair grounds at North Platte, during one of the auto races, when a wheel flew off one of the big racing cars during the first lap of the race and run out thru the side fence striking Floyd Wheaton on the side of the head, smashing in his skull, which caused instant death. The news spread over our peaceful little village like wildfire, and wherever it touched it left sorrow, and the expressions of sympathy for the bereaved ones were many and from the heart.

Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Musil and little boys and Grandpa Tufta left town Saturday morning, anticipating a pleasant day at the county fair at North Platte, little realizing what sad gloom was in store for them. They had just drove in the grounds, stopped the car back a few feet from the fence and the little boys got out and went up to the fence where they could get a better view of the racing. They were in the midst of thousands of spectators. They had hardly got settled when the high speed racers came tearing down the stretch and they were attentively watching the head car when the wheel came off one of the cars in the rear and came out thru the fence, first hitting Glen on the arm with a result of a badly sprained arm, then with a slight bound took little Floyd on the side of the head with the results mentioned above.

Medical aid was at once on hand, but life went out instantly.

The body was taken to the undertaking parlors of the town where it was prepared for shipment to his birth place at Junction City, Wis.

The sad party returned home in the night, all heart broken over the sad accident, and made preparations to go back to Platte in the morning to accompany the remains to Wisconsin where he was tenderly laid to rest beside his father, who had preceded him to the home beyond a few years ago.

Chester Floyd Wheaton was born at Junction City, Wis., June 30, 1908, where he lived with his parents till about two years ago, when his mother was re-married to E. E. Musil of this place, and he came to make his home with us. He was a favorite among his young playmates, and will be sadly missed in the school and Sunday school, of which he was a very regular attendant. To show their appreciation of the remembrance of their young companion, both the school and Sunday school sent an elegant pillow of cut flowers for the funeral.

ALL WORN OUT

Does morning find you with a lame, stiff and aching back? Are you tired all the time—find work a burden? Have you suspected your kidneys? Stevens Point people endorse Doan's Kidney Pills. You can rely on their statements.

Mrs. Chris Larson, 616 Water St., Stevens Point, says: "I suffered terribly from pains in my back which extended into my left side. I had sharp twinges through my kidneys and they were not acting right at all. In the morning I felt more tired than when I went to bed. I was discouraged, nervous and all worn out. I got Doan's Kidney Pills at Taylor Bros' Drug Store and the first box relieved me. I didn't have to use any kidney medicine for six months after and then I again took Doan's. After I used three boxes, I was cured and I have had no further need of them since."

Price 60c, at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mrs. Larson had. Foster-Milburn Co., Mfrs., Buffalo, N. Y.

HUNS ARE YELLOW

Nephew of H. D. Boston of This City Returns to Home in East and Brings Cheering Reports

That the Huns are yellow and live in terror of the Yankee division is the statement of Capt. Carroll J. Swan of Boston, a nephew of H. D. Boston of this city. Capt. Swan returned from overseas the latter part of September and brought back cheering messages from the boys over there to the relatives at home. He came back with two other captains, who after a few days' furlough reported to a camp in the south to aid in the formation of a new division. Each captain will be advanced one grade, so it will soon be Major Swan. In an interview with a reporter of the Boston Globe soon after his arrival home, the following statements made by Capt. Swan will be of general interest to all who have relatives and friends at the front:

"First off permit me to say just a word to the dear folks at home regarding the boys over there. If I had a boy of my own, I would much rather he would be over there with that bunch of brave, honest lads in the 'push' than to have him playing around the streets of Brookline or Boston.

"Speaking of the moral side of their lives, let me tell you there is no cause for worry or alarm. Every man and boy over there is filled with ambition and pride, ambition to do something wonderful for his country, his flag and his people in the big fight for humanity. They know no fear. They have a great pride in themselves, their family names, in their company, their regiment and the American Army as a whole, and each one is extremely careful not to do anything to damage any of these.

"Sometimes their spirits have been low. There have been times when letters and newspapers from home did not come and times when the chow has been bad, scarce and tardy in coming to them, but through it all they have kept smiling and working and fighting.

"They are individually making history and the knowledge of all this has kept them happy. They are all the time expressing their sorrow for the boys at home. They think it a pity they, too, cannot be in this thing, getting the fun and the glory out of it, along with the hardships and suffering.

"All that are left of them today are filled with new hopes and greater joy. I have never yet heard an American soldier groan, moan or grumble.

"Do not permit the people who tell terrible stories about the physical condition of the boys to disturb you. The one thing which angers the American soldier more than all else is the news that people at home are circulating tending to show that their physical condition is low from immorality.

"Such stories are false and entirely without foundation. I had an opportunity to know. For a time I was on an assignment where I had, in Gen. Pershing's headquarters, a chance to see the reports showing the physical condition of the men."

In speaking of the 26th Division, Capt. Swan says it is known everywhere as the "Yankee Division," and everything it has is marked "Y. D." It is the only division of American troops in France which distinctly represents a locality. Every man in it comes from New England and all are volunteers or National Guardsmen. It was the first division of American soldiers to take over a sector and the first to make a drive into and through the Boche lines. Those boys from Maine are wonderful fighting men and know no fear. The Germans are desperately afraid of the American soldiers. When they see the Americans coming, they turn and run. The Frenchmen have a saying which is, "The Americans are wonderful fighters. They dig in with their left hand, fight with their right hand, and laugh all the time."

"When we first got over there we did a tremendous amount of defense work," said Capt. Swan. "We dug trenches and dugouts, put up barbed wire entanglements and dug emplacements for guns until our boys were getting discouraged. This lasted about four months.

"When we got into the fighting everything seemed different. Everybody was happy and having a great old time." Capt. Swan then related how at one time when there was some extremely dangerous work to be done he had called the company together in a barn preparatory to calling for volunteers. He himself went into the loft with the men on the floor below and after explaining to them, was about to call for volunteers when six men piled through a window and fell over him in an effort to get into the detail. They had sensed what was coming and thought the first to volunteer would be selected. The men on the floor also fought for a chance, and all were so anxious to go that lots had to be drawn.

"Of course we are just rookies yet," continued Capt. Swan. "We have been in it only a year but the high spirits of our boys and their admirable work no doubt saved Paris from the Huns. They were certainly on their way to Paris and I fear would have been there by now if our boys had not stopped them at Chateau-Thierry. The French were depressed and, in fact, you never see a Frenchman smile even now, except at some American soldier.

"Speaking of the gameness and spirit of the American soldier, let me tell you I went out one morning after a 'big push' you understand we over there call these scraps a 'push' and visited every dressing station and hospital on our front looking after our boys. Say, it was astounding, for they were bringing them in fast and I did not hear a groan out of any of them, and some of them surely were in terrible agony. I saw four rows of wounded men upon stretchers extending a quarter of a mile at the depot at Chateau-Thierry.

"Some of them were shockingly cut to pieces, but not a man among them complained or groaned. Our chaplain was with me and some of the remarks of the boys were laughable.

"One fellow had 18 bullets" and sharpnel wounds in his body and when he was brought into the dressing station he recognized another soldier and shouted: 'Hey, Buddy, how you feeling?'

"Fine. How are you?' the other replied, and the first soldier said, 'I'm fine, too.'

"I had a boy in my company who I knew was shot in the shoulder and I got after him and he denied that he was wounded at all. He said he was alright. I knew he was wounded because his shoulder was shot away. He went reluctantly to the hospital.

"Another boy said when he was brought into the hospital, 'I'm glad I'm shot, because now I can sleep, and sleep, and sleep until I have had a good sleep, and no bugler can turn me out in the morning for a while at least.'

"I heard a soldier ask another, whose right leg was shot away at the hip, 'How is the chow, Buddy?' and the crippled man replied, pointing to his stump, 'Well, I can't kick.'

"Another soldier shouted to him, 'Hey, Buddy, I'll swap yer a good right leg for your perfectly good right arm.' These little things indicate that the boys are all cheerful, even in the face of great misfortune, and the only kick any of them make is when they cannot get back into the fighting. All are extremely anxious to do a part of the job, and all want to make a big, quick clean-up of the Boche. They will."

MRS. W. H. TASCHER CALLED

Local Pioneer and Lady of Many Attainments Passes Away at 10 O'Clock Tuesday Forenoon

Mrs. William H. Tascher, one of Stevens Point's most cultured residents and a lady beloved by all who knew her, was called from life's mission at 10 o'clock Tuesday morning, her death occurring at the family home on Center avenue, where she resided nearly forty years.

Mrs. Tascher suffered a severe sickness two years ago last July and since then had been in frail health. A month ago she was taken with bronchial asthma and heart trouble and because of her weak constitution and advanced age was unable to rally. She remained in bed for almost the last month of her life, when cardiac failure came on.

Her husband, William H. Tascher, died in 1878. For years later Mr.

and Mrs. Tascher and their two daughters came west to Stevens Point and this had been the family home continuously for a period of 46 years.

Five children were born to the couple, one of whom died in infancy. Those surviving are Miss Julia Tascher of this city, clerk in Supt. Banach's office; Mrs. Genevieve Bradt of Schenectady, N. Y.; Mrs. Homer Sibley of New York city and Richard H. Tascher of Waukegan, Ill.

There are also seven grandchildren, Genevieve, Elbe and Julie Bradt, Jerome, Philip, Margery and Elbe Marie Tascher, the latter a baby born to Richard and wife at Waukegan last week.

Mrs. Bradt arrived here from the east last Saturday and the other family members are expected within twenty or thirty days.

Until their arrival, the funeral arrangements for the funeral of Mrs. Tascher will be held at Church of the Holy Cross on Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock.

The funeral will be held at the funeral home of Forest cemetery.

Mrs. Tascher was an artist of national ability and her home is richly filled with paintings, which she did in a professional manner. She received a thorough classical education and was the author of many papers and poems, a number of which were published in high class magazines and periodicals.

The aged husband, daughters and son have the sympathy of the community in the loss of a loving wife and mother.

CANNON TRANSFERRED

Last Monday the large cannon owned by the city, but several years ago placed in charge of Stevens Point Post No. 156, G. A. R., was transferred from engine house No. 1 to Nelson Hall. The carriage and gun will be painted and then placed in front of the flag staff on the Normal campus. The cannon has been placed in temporary charge of Lieutenant Kaufmann, commandant of the Students' Army Training Corps.

CLOSE HIGH SCHOOL

Harry Young, supervisor of common work in the Burlington High School, has returned home for an indefinite leave of absence. Several cases of Spanish influenza broke out among the students and it was deemed advisable to suspend classes for the present.

True Friends Beyond Price.

The most blessed reality in human life is a friend who understands and can companion your heart. Don't allow yourself to wear your spirit out alone with anxiety or grief. "The friends thou hast, and their adoption tried, grapple them to thy soul with hoops of steel." A true friend will save your soul alive.

Wives Evidently His Hobby.

The oldest incorporated city in the United States is New York, incorporated in 1653. Boston, although settled in 1630, was not incorporated till 1822, having passed through the Revolutionary war and a long interval besides without a city charter. Other American cities were incorporated as follows: Philadelphia, in 1701; Baltimore, in 1796; Pittsburgh, in 1816; Cincinnati, in 1819; St. Louis, in 1822; New Orleans, in 1805; Detroit, in 1824; Indianapolis, in 1831.

HELP HIM CARRY ON—BUY MORE BONDS

WHAT THE WAR IS COSTING

Total Outlay for Two Years Ending June 30, 1919, Is Estimated at $36,696,702,470.

A recent article in The Outlook takes the position that "recoverable or productive assets" amounting to $16,000,000,000 for the benefit of the American people stand against war loans at present authorized, amounting to $24,000,000,000. It is estimated that the total outlay for the two years ending June 30, 1919, will be $36,696,702,470.

The "recoverable assets" include $10,000,000,000 authorized for loans to the allies; $2,750,000,000 for ships and shipyards; $1,000,000,000 for railways in France; army warehouses, $228,000,000; domestic railways, financial and grain purposes, $1,050,000,000; and various permanent investments, $972,000,000.

These conclusions, reached by Mr. T. H. Price, are sustained by the reasoning of Sir George Paish and many other European economists. It is commonly assumed that the "gross cost of war," including all economic losses, loss of trade, destruction of property, dissipation of materials, excess consumption of commodities and the incidental waste of "utility," may be discounted about half to arrive at the "true net cost." On this basis the London Statist estimates that the real economic loss to all the belligerent nations will not exceed $167,000,000,000 to the end of 1917. Since then, of course, there has been a tremendous destruction which it is impossible at the moment to approximate.

Godmother to a Liberty Bond.

"My Renault tank, No. 66,444 has gone through the enemy lines three times, has dug deep holes in the German infantry waves and destroyed many machine guns. My tank is still going and we hope for more victories. But our machine is not yet baptized. It needs a name. Who wants to be godmother?"

This letter was written by the commander of artillery section 316 on the Marne front during the recent victory. Here's your chance. But there is a better chance nearer home:

Be godmother to all the fourth Liberty bonds you can buy.

The Liberty Bond you buy is a "meal ticket" for a Fighting Yank.

BUYING BONDS IS THRIFT

Famous French Statesman Says Thrift Is Virtue of the People.

Deputy Justin Godart, in a recent speech on "The American Crusade," said: "Thrift, that virtue so characteristically French, so domestic, so modest, so sterling—thrift is the virtue which, during the terrible trials of the war, has not failed to yield us, according to our ever-increasing necessities, unsuspected means and resources."

We must place it in the first rank of our elements of resistance. It has been the part of the lowly in the economic outlay. Thrift! It is the virtue of the people, just as the Polle is the people's soldier, and like the Polle it enabled France to withstand the assaults of the barbarians."

Out of the hardships of the war America is recovering the ancestral virtue of thrift. That alone will abundantly repay us as a people for all the sacrifices we are compelled to undergo.

At the actual minute there is no duty for Americans that can compare with the buying of Fourth Liberty bonds. Thrift is good for the country; but first we must make sure that we have a country. We must beat the German feudalism. Never mind what you did on the early loans. That money is spent—for war preparation. The Fourth Loan is for Fighting.

VICTORY

The word carries a thrill! It touches our fondest hopes, our deepest purpose, our pride in doing our part. It spells freedom, prosperity, a clean and decent world to live in.

Liberty bonds equip armies, build fleets. But they do something far greater—they buy victory. They yield four and one-quarter per cent. Yes...and VICTORY!

HAVE BOCHE'S NUMBER

Confidence and Enthusiasm of American Soldiers Has Changed Morale of Entire Allied Forces

A Lieutenant Colonel in the American Expeditionary Forces, who is now in the trenches, wrote the following:

The big show at Chateau Thierry has been on all this past week, and we are on tip toe watching the changes in the map as fast as the bulletins come in. Most of us are from some division, and whenever one of us sees that his division is in the fight he goes off damming his luck, because he's not with his outfit. Oh, you don't know what a difference it has made in the morale of everyone. I think they were all disappointed at the appearance in getting over, at the appearance and training and equipment of our men. But now that we have had so many here and so many more coming and they have either seen or been told how wonderfully our men fight, why they are just beside themselves with joy. The whole attitude of the officers of our allies has changed toward us. We are now THE thing. No more condescension. They listen and defer to our opinion, they adopt our views—the people, the papers—both British and French, they now love us and believe in us, and we are all in perfect accord and sympathy. We are now the new oracle, the inspiration of the movement, the big brother, the unbeatable, the grand, the "Magnifique"—for we have put our men in, lots of them, raw and untamed, but strong, enthusiastic and resourceful young Americans—full of confidence in themselves and their country, with faith that right is on their side, with faith in their neighbors and a determination not merely to stop the Boche, but to lick him, to beat him at his own game or die in the attempt. And they did. It is done. No matter what temporary reverses may come, the American soldier has got the Boche's number.

I have talked to lots of them, temporarily disabled, but you can see the future in their eyes. It is the same story from all of them. "Never you mind me. They fixed me, but it's all right. We can lick him man for man. We've got his goat, he won't face us now. He's licked and he knows it." That is what those who have been in the fight say. I can feel exactly the American soldier's state of morale. It's physical and mental. He sees ahead. He sees big. He feels big. He compares everything over here with his own country and gives himself the best of it. His country has more money, more factories, more resources, more men, more modern methods and appliances.

Does he credit the German with being a better soldier? "Hell, no," he says. "We can learn all them square heads know in one fight, think of twelve things to beat it, and invent new tricks that he never dreamed of—why just you fellows wait till we get our army all over here, and in one bunch together on the line. Why, say, we won't see them Boche for dust."

There is no discipline over here that compares with ours. Our men have absorbed it. They heard so many lectures in the States about the wonderful discipline over here. They arrived, took one look, and started in with characteristic American spirit to beat it—and they have. They are self-disciplined. They are cleaner than any one else, they salute better, they work harder at learning the various ways of fighting. They are doing it voluntarily and they have passed their instructors.

We came back from French headquarters thrilled by the stories we had heard of what the Americans did in the last offensive. It is still unbelievable to me. "The Americans saved Paris. It was American divisions who stood against Germany's best. The American divisions are the best on either side of the line, the best in the world." Such stuff said by French officers is astounding. Soldiers who have seen say that there is no army like ours, no such fanatical fighting men anywhere—that an almost religious passion is all through our troops and that the Boche has had his morale badly shaken.

There can be no doubt that a surprising rise in French morale has resulted from the communiques of July 4 and July 14. "Now we cannot lose" is their talk.

"KEEPING OUR FIGHTERS FIT"

By Dr. Frank Crane
(Copyright, 1918, by Frank Crane.)

This book is a clear and most fascinating explanation of what is perhaps America's finest gesture in the war.

Never before in history has a nation made such an effort to improve the mental and moral, as well as the physical, condition of its soldiers. America has realized that the members of its army and navy, in order to conquer their enemies, must conquer themselves.

It has transformed the army from "dumb driven cattle" to an organization that shall do the work of the school, the college, the club and the church.

In other words, our soldier boys are not only to suffer and fight for us, they are to improve themselves.

Those who come back from this war are going to be better and stronger men and more intelligent citizens. "This time," said Secretary Baker, "they will not be volunteers; they will be drafted into service. We cannot afford to draft them into a demoralizing environment. It must be assured that the conditions in the camps are as stimulating and as worthy as their environment in home community."

To this end the commissions under Mr. Foodick's charge aim to combat idleness, homesickness, weariness, monotony, and vice, for these enemies are more terrible than the Germans. This is not sentiment, it is just plain efficiency.

Everybody with a boy in the army will want to get this book.

GIVE THE BOYS RIFLES

Stevens Point Liberty Loan Quota With Give Soldiers 16,200 Weapons That They Know How to Use

The American soldier swears by his rifle. Machine guns are powerful weapons, hand grenades and trench bombs may be handy at times, but when it comes right down to real sure-enough fighting in the open, where the enemy can be seen, give the doughboy a rifle every time. The ease with which he can pot a leaping Boche at a hundred yards has amazed the soldiers of the French and British armies.

Give the Yanks time and rifles enough and they will drive straight through to Berlin. The boys will do the shooting, but it is up to those who stay at home to provide the rifles. Stevens Point must provide its share and it will do it by subscribing its quota and more of the fourth Liberty Loan. Do you know what Stevens Point will be doing if it subscribes only the minimum quota of $405,000 that has been allotted to this city? It will be putting rifles in the hands of 16,200 of the boys who are offering their lives in the cause of their country. Each rifle used by the American soldiers costs the government $25. Every $50 bond that you buy will put two rifles in the hands of boys at the front—and maybe they will be Stevens Point boys who are fighting your fight 3,000 miles away from home.

Stevens Point will buy 16,200 rifles for the boys over there if it only subscribes its minimum quota of the fourth Liberty Loan, but it will do more than that. Remember that every $1,000 over the quota subscribed means 40 more rifles for the boys who know how to use them.

RATS INDICTED AGAIN

That Infantile Paralysis is spread by the bites of fleas infected with rat and other rodent diseases is the theory of Dr. Mark Richardson, published in the last "Journal of Public Health." No pretense is made by the author that his theory is established truth. On the contrary, he says that much experimental work will be needed to prove the correctness or falsity of his theory. His argument, however, is most convincing.

Infantile paralysis is a contagious disease but its spread is not like that of the ordinary contagious diseases of childhood. It does not go through families, schools, and orphanages to any such extent as do measles and scarlet fever, for example. Hitherto, this has been explained on the ground that many cases do not go on to paralysis but simply take a form which is mistaken for a common cold, but are yet capable of conveying the disease which may paralyze the next victim.

Bubonic plague is spread by the bites of fleas which have left infested rats and bitten human victims. Epidemics of this disease have many of the same characteristics as epidemics of infantile paralysis. It is these similarities which have led Dr. Richardson to study into the rat theory of the transmission of infantile paralysis.

As I have said above, the theory is not established and nothing could be further from the purpose of Dr. Richardson or myself than to proclaim that a great discovery has as yet been made in this field. Nevertheless, the possibilities in this direction are so great and the doctor's arguments so reasonable, that I feel that the public generally, should be warned of this possible additional menace of the rat.

Some weeks ago I advocated in this column the annihilation of rats, especially by starvation and destruction of their breeding places—for this the dual purpose of conserving food and protecting public and personal health. Nothing can be lost by such a war on rats and it may be that the increasing threat of great epidemics of infantile paralysis may be diminished thereby.

There is just one possible danger suggested by Dr. Richardson's article and that is the scattering of possible infected rats by half-way measures. The war should be one of annihilation, best accomplished as suggested above, by abolishing accommodations provided by careless human beings, for breeding and feeding rats.

Health officers, school teachers, physicians, and other especially interested individuals will be sent further discussion of this disease on receipt of a stamped and self-addressed envelope. Write University Extension Health Bureau, Milwaukee, Wisconsin.

Suspension of Automobile, Motorcycle and Motorboat Racing Requested by U. S. Fuel Administrator

A request that all automobile, motorcycle and motorboat racing and speed contests be suspended for the period of the war was made Oct. 3 by United States Fuel Administrator. The request comes as a result of the growing need for the conservation of gasoline and because of the demand for skilled automobile drivers and mechanics for war service. A strict compliance of the request is earnestly desired.

The American Automobile Association is co-operating in the movement and has assured the Fuel Administrator that it is prepared to observe the request. Chairman Richard Kennerdell, of the Association's Contest Board, reports that he has practically suspended operations and will issue no more sanctions for race meets or speed contests.

Sanction had been previously given, however, for races to be held at Trenton, N. J., Danbury, Conn., Tucson and Phoenix, Ariz., and at Los Angeles, Calif., within the next two months, but it is expected that the promoters of these contests will call the events off in order to comply with the wishes of the Fuel Administration.

Besides the saving of gasoline the cessation of race meets will serve to supply expert operators and mechanics for service in the Army Transport and Aeronautic branches of the Army.

HARD HEADED

Almond Press: Otto Von Gunten had a close call to very serious injury if not death last Friday when he fell from the top of a shed on the J. C. F. Fletcher farm, a distance of 18 feet to the ground below and struck on his head and shoulders. That he was not killed is considered little less than a miracle. He was badly bruised and shaken up but has since recovered sufficient to be about and assist in the work about the farm.

LIBERTY LOANS OF '61-'63

Were Financed by Jay Cooke, a Young Philadelphia Banker— 6% Interest Paid

The campaign for the Fourth Liberty Loan renders peculiarly timely a recent report by a worker in the Wisconsin Historical Society on the remarkable work of Jay Cooke in popularizing the government loans of the civil war.

On the day the news of the Union defeat at Bull Run reached Philadelphia Cooke, a young banker of that city, drew up a paper offering to advance to the secretary of the treasury specified sums of money for sixty days at six per cent interest, returnable in specie or treasury notes. With this proposal he visited the principal banks of the city and in one day raised for immediate government needs nearly $2,000,000.

This exploit set the young banker on the highway to fame and fortune. Later, when Secretary Chase sought to sell by popular subscription a $150,000,000 bond issue, Cooke sold more than one-fourth of all the bonds allotted to agents throughout the entire country. Such qualities of salesmanship demanded recognition. Accordingly in October, 1862, Secretary Chase appointed Cooke sole agent for the sale of a $500,000,000 bond issue. Cooke's genius for advertising enabled him to perform this herculean task with apparent ease. He employed 2,500 subagents in every part of the north, and offered the bonds direct to the people in small denominations. With the vision of a statesman he made the loan a great democratic institution, giving the masses a direct financial interest in the success of the Union cause.

SOCIAL HAPPENINGS of INTEREST

Mrs. H. D. Boston entertained at luncheon for her guest, Mrs. N. F. Phillips, last week. About ten old friends of Mrs. Phillips were present.

Lillian Review No. 14 of the Woman's Benefit Association of the Maccabees will hold a special meeting at Woodman's hall this evening to meet Miss Harriet Olson, deputy supreme commander.

Mrs. Frances Achtelik, 312 Front street, and Mathias Gerber of Minneapolis were married at St. Joseph's church on Monday morning, Sept. 30, by Rev. H. J. Ehr. They were attended by Mrs. Martha Supplek of this city and Peter Gerber of Minneapolis, brother of the groom. Following the ceremony a wedding breakfast was served at the bride's home, which was attended by about thirty relatives.

Mrs. Gerber spent her girlhood and young womanhood days in Stevens Point, but moved to St. Paul about fifteen years ago, and later lived at Minneapolis. She returned to this city about a year and a half ago. Mr. Gerber is employed in the ruling department of the Miller & Davis Printing Co. at Minneapolis, and the newly married couple will make their future home in that city, for which place they left last Saturday.

Raymond C. Tyler, local agent for the Green Bay & Western railroad, and Miss Floi E. Bennett, daughter of Mrs. P. B. Seymour of Green Bay, were married at the Seymour home last Saturday morning at 11:30 o'clock by Rev. Edwin A. Ralph, pastor of the Green Bay Congregational church. There were no attendants.

A company of about fifty, including relatives of the contracting parties and a number of friends from Ladysmith, New London, Menasha, Chicago and Colby, Minn., partook of a wedding breakfast and that afternoon Mr. and Mrs. Tyler left for a brief stay in Milwaukee and Chicago. They arrived in Stevens Point Monday and now occupy the upper flat in E. E. Rubin's home at 540 Clark street, which has been newly and completely furnished by Mr. Tyler.

The bride is a girlhood resident of Menasha and a graduate from the High school in that city. She also studied interior decorating at Columbia university, New York, and later finished the domestic science course at Stout institute, Menomonee, Wis. Her teaching experience consisted of a year's work as supervisor of domestic science at Madison.

Mr. Tyler came to Stevens Point the 20th of last March from Milwaukee to succeed P. Curran as railroad agent, the latter being transferred to La Crosse.

He was a resident of Chicago for several years and is a graduate of the Wendell Phillips High school in that city. The degree of A. B. was given him upon his graduation from Michigan university at Ann Arbor. Mr. Tyler began his business experience in Milwaukee, where he was successively employed in office capacities by the Holeproof Hosiery Co. and the C. M. & St. P. railroad.

During the gentleman's brief residence in our city he has formed many good friendships and all who have met him even casually have formed a distinctly favorable impression.

It is certain that Mrs. Tyler will be cordially welcomed as a resident of Stevens Point and the wish is also expressed that she and her husband may enjoy many years of happiness together.

The Loyal Temperance Legion will give a 50-50 Red Cross benefit entertainment at the Baptist church on Thursday evening, Oct. 31, under the direction of Mrs. H. E. Osborne, 422 Madison street, assisted by Mrs. Taylor and Mrs. F. W. Phaneuf. The legion recently elected the following officers for the ensuing three months:

President—Edward Plank.
Vice President—Everett Bright.
Secretary—Florence Blake.
Corr. Secretary—Dolores Dorr.
Treasurer—Frances Osborne.
Evangelistic Supt.—Katherine McLandress.
Librarian—Mabel Spindler.

The regular meeting of the Woman's Club was called to order at 3 o'clock Saturday, Oct. 3, by the president, Mrs. J. E. Delzell, at their club room in the library.

A short business session resulted in the election of Mrs. J. J. Heffron to represent the club as a delegate to a conference of the State Charities and Corrections, which meets in Milwaukee from Oct. 8 to 10th, and in appointing Mrs. G. E. McMill to act as a delegate to our state legislature to ratify the federal suffrage amendment.

The program for the afternoon opened with a paper read by Arthur Becker, "Maccabees," by Oscar Leiber, which the members greeted with a hearty cheer. To this Mr. Becker responded with a paper on "The Maccabees." "Serenade Gounod."

M. M. Ames, following, gave those who were fortunate enough to be present a paper on "The Maccabees," which was a very interesting paper.

Mr. Becker again opened the club with an Italian song, "The Maccabees," "From a Wagon," by Carl Haggen. Mrs. Becker, accompanied by her son, also sang a song, "The Maccabees," which was a very interesting paper.

God bless our noble men.
Bring them safe home again.
God bless our men;
Keep them victorious,
Patient and chivalrous,
They are so dear to us.
God save our men.

God bless our women, too,
Keep them in service true
To our first cause,
Make them a valiant band,
With willing heart and hand,
To meet each day's demand;
God bless them too.

The social hour was enjoyed without refreshments.

Oscar H. Korslin of Rudolph and Miss Ella Schlenker of Linwood were married at the bride's home last Saturday, Oct. 5th. Mrs. Korslin is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Aug. F. Schlenker, prominent residents of Linwood. The best wishes of many friends will attend the young couple on their life's journey.

Supt. C. E. Urbahn has reported a total of $63,300 subscribed by 539 So. line employees with headquarters in Stevens Point.

By proclamation issued by the President, $2.20 a bushel is set as the minimum base price guaranteed by the government for the 1919 wheat crop. The price for Chicago will be $2.26, the same as it is for the 1918 crop.

A disinterested commission will be appointed next spring to see whether the increased cost of farm labor and supplies would justify an increase above that price.

"In giving a guaranteed price for wheat one year in advance there is a considerable risk," the president said.

Despite this, the desirability of assuring a supply of breadstuffs to the world by insuring the farmer against the fluctuations in prices that would result from the uncertainties of the present situation, seems to me to make the continuation of the guarantee for another year desirable."

FAIR PRICE LISTS SPREAD THROUGHOUT WISCONSIN

Block Profiteering. But Give Merchants a Fair Profit.

The publication of fair price lists thruout Wisconsin is spreading rapidly, and already all the counties except sixteen have established price-fixing committees which issue these lists.

To know what are the fair prices for them to pay and to keep in touch with the week's food rulings, housewives should consult these lists before doing their marketing.

Merchants as well as the housewives are benefited by the fair price lists. They protect them from unfair competition of unscrupulous merchants who profit from the hard conditions of war times, and they give them a fair profit while explaining their prices to the people. This frees them from any charge of profiteering.

By the publication of these lists, prices all over the country will be stabilized. With a fairly free flow of transportation, prices can be maintained at a reasonable level.

Pedigreed.

Bushrod was establishing a pigeon coop of his own, emulating his neighbor, Bill Hite. In arranging the financial promotion of this venture he went to his mother.

"Mother," he said, "I want a dollar to buy a pigeon."

Mother thought a dollar a rather high price for a pigeon, with common birds averaging ten cents.

"But, mother," Bushrod said earnestly, "you don't understand. This is a pedigree pigeon. With its pedigree it's cheap at a dollar."

Bushrod finally wheedled his mother out of the dollar and left to buy his blooded bird. He returned with the pigeon and a scrap of crumpled paper in his pocket.

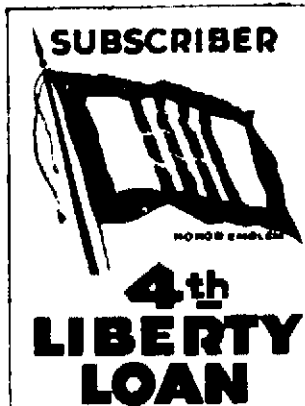

"Mother," he said, "this is the pedigree."

"On the crumpled scrap of paper was written:

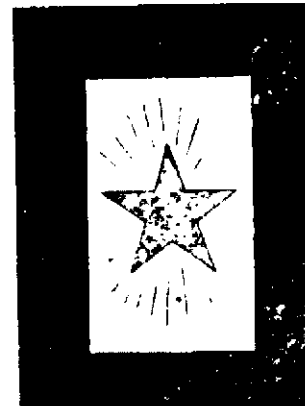

"Grandfather unknown. Grandmother, unknown. Father unknown. Mother, Bill Hite's pigeon."

Egyptians Fond of Pigeons.
Certain Egyptians carry on to a remarkable degree the business of raising pigeons. On one estate the 14 pigeon towers, each composed of about 1,200 clay jars, set one upon another. Each jar forms a comfortable nest for the family of pigeons occupying it.

DEATH OF REV. BRAUN

Young Clergyman, Native of Stevens Point, Dies Very Unexpectedly at Kellnersville, Wis.

A telephone message received by Rev. H. J. Ehr last Friday night announced the death at Kellnersville, Manitowish county, of Rev. William R. Braun, a native of Stevens Point and who spent his boyhood days here. Local friends were unaware of his illness, therefore the news of his death caused profound grief and sorrow. It has since been learned that the reverend gentleman was laid up for five days with pneumonia, but his condition did not become alarming until shortly before the end.

He was the only son of Mr. and Mrs. John Braun, who were esteemed residents of this city for many years prior to the removal of the Wisconsin central shops to N. Fond du Lac. Born here 34 years ago, William attended St. Joseph's parochial school until he was twelve or fourteen years of age and then enrolled as a student at St. Francis' theological seminary, near Milwaukee. He was ordained to the priesthood by the late Bishop J. J. Fox on June 18th, 1908, and offered up his first mass at St. Joseph's church the following Sunday. This auspicious occasion was graced by the attendance of many clergymen from various parts of the state, besides a number of other friends of the young priest.

His life's work was started under very favorable conditions and even during the short space of time that he acted as spiritual guide he had become recognized as one of the ablest clergymen in the Green Bay diocese. Besides a ready command of perfect English, he was equally well versed in the German and Bohemian tongues.

While never forgetting the dignity of his vocation, Father Braun was none the less full of jolly good nature and was the life of any company.

Ever since his ordination ten years ago he had been stationed in eastern Wisconsin, part of the time at Fish Creek, Door county, but for the past several years at Kellnersville. Since going to the latter place his congregation built a large and handsome church and also erected a modern parsonage. They were ready and anxious to carry out any request or suggestion made by their pastor, for whom they had infinite love and respect.

The people of Kellnersville grieve for Father Braun almost as much as do the heart-broken parents in the loss of their only child.

WOMEN NOT IDLE

Undemonstrative Work of Women in Loan Campaign is Proving Helpful to County

The interest and enthusiastic spirit of the women workers for the Fourth Liberty Loan in Portage county is just as great in this campaign as it has been in past drives, although not much has been heard of their work. They are cooperating with the men's organizations, and while not soliciting subscriptions in a house to house canvass, as in the past, are assisting very materially with the work at headquarters at the postoffice, where Mrs. E. A. Oberweiser is in charge, taking the place of Mr. Oberweiser, city chairman.

Mrs. E. L. Smith is chairman of the woman's committee of the Fourth Liberty Loan and has been doing some effective work in suggesting and having carried out patriotic programs in the various district schools for this week, Liberty week. Also the women of the speakers' bureau have been attending rural meetings and have been addressing school gatherings in the city and the country. Wherever their services are needed, they willingly and gladly assist. The patriotic meeting held in front of the postoffice last Friday evening and the one to follow this week, and possibly next, were carried out under Mrs. Smith's direction, and other plans are being formulated for promoting interest in the loan.

A Liberty week program that promises to be especially interesting will be carried out at Grant school, district No. 1, Thursday, Miss Elsie Podowiltz is teacher of this school. The entire community has been invited to attend and Mrs. T. H. Hanna of this city will sing and Mrs. F. E. Walbridge of River Pines will speak.

WANTS TO GET ACROSS

Irwin Lutz Tells of Anxiety of Boys at Fort Stevens to Get Crack at Hindenburg Line

Oct. 4th, 1918.

I have nothing else to do this morning so I thought I would write you a few lines. We are kept very busy nowadays. We got 1,600 new recruits and expect about 2,000 more very soon. The 1,600 who arrived last week got their equipment at Camp Lewis and then were sent here. They were infantrymen and they were transferred into the cost artillery. We have about a dozen new barracks, all erected within the last two months. So you can see they are planning on making this a real fort.

Our band has moved to one of the newest and best barracks in Fort Stevens. The 1st company has half of the building and we the other half. I heard yesterday that out of those last 1,600 men there are 52 good musicians and the officers are going to start another regimental band. I hope that won't stop our band from going overseas. The rainy season will start about Nov. 1st and keeps up for three or four months, which would make it miserable for us boys to play out in the rain day after day.

On Thursday, Oct. 3rd, the band played at Astoria, Ore., for a new Liberty Temple. They sure put up a nice building.

We are under quarantine now for Spanish influenza. We have several cases and one of the boys died with it. Another battery may leave here Nov. 8th for Camp Upton, Va., where they will be for about six weeks and then for overseas. All the boys seem to be anxious to get across and get a crack at that Hindenburg line. I'll close for this time.

Yours truly,
Irwin W. Lutz,
29th C. A. C. Band,
Fort Stevens, Oregon.

DEATH OF MRS. MULKINS

Auto Accident on Church Street A Few Days Before Results in Death on Thursday Morning

The death of Mrs. Wm. Mulkins, 60 years of age, came on Wednesday morning, Oct. 2nd, at her home on Water street, Stevens Point, Wis. She was a native of Ireland and had been married to Mr. Mulkins for 35 years.

Mrs. Mulkins was a member of the Catholic church and was a devoted mother and wife. She was born in Ireland and came to this country with her parents when she was a child.

BUSY DAYS AT FORT

Epidemic of Grippe at Fort Sheridan Mentioned by Dr. Walters, Now on Medical Staff There

Fort Sheridan, Ill., Oct. 7, 1918.

Dear Friends:

Since this epidemic of influenza struck us there has been but little time for correspondence, but John Winicki and Felix Urbanowski coming in on sick call today caused a sort of homesick spell and a desire to let the old friends know how we are.

As stated above, the work has been fast and furious of late, but seems to be letting up, we hope never to return. We have seen enough misery, homesick and dying boys and broken-hearted parents to last a lifetime.

One great big homesick lad, whom we know would fight with the best if opportunity offered, began to cry like a child when advised he must go to the ward. Possibly he had a premonition that he was doomed, as he went steadily down and out. Another received a letter from his mother with five $1 bills to cheer him up, but in a short time passed over with the letter and bills crumpled in his hand.

One of the staff said the only way he kept his nerve up was to lay off a bit and curse the Huns.

Our trouble has been the boys are so gritty they try to bluff the disease off and do not come to sick call early. More grit than good judgment.

One day while I was serving as officer of the day, the rest of the staff had to examine the students at the training camp, and thus left me to handle sick call alone. By the time the troubles of 85 had been listened to, physical examinations made and prescriptions passed out, it surely seemed a day's work. But being O. D. means 24 hours' service. Calls at 11:30 p. m. and 1 and 3 a. m. that night left but little rest—and so it goes.

Life here is not all sadness, for young America will not be denied its fun, and one or two hundred of him lined up for nose and throat spray is as good as the best of fun-making movies.

Then, too, how he does despise police duty, and it is to laugh the way the work is skipped and the planks that are played on each other. It is all excusable when one thinks how quick they would get busy if permitted or called upon to fight for the cause of democracy.

We surely are thankful the students' army training camp broke up and the boys left before this trouble was in full swing.

This is now General U. S. Hospital No. 28 and as soon as the quarantine is raised the soldiers will leave and 1,500 workmen will transform the barracks into hospital wards. The medical staff will include some 150 members.

However, one does not know when an order will come to go to some other place, and thus we may not be here long. I hope to remain until the unpleasantness is over.

Trusting all is well in central Wisconsin, I am

Most sincerely yours,
Capt. F. A. Walters.

MORE COMPLIMENTS

The Gazette is appreciative of all the kind messages it has received during the past few weeks and is pleased to hear that its efforts to tell the home news result in giving pleasure to its readers. Since last week many more substantial acknowledgements have been received, some of them accompanied by words of appreciation. We quote from a few, as follows:

A. J. Steinke, Ogdensburg, Wis.: "We do not like to miss a single copy."

L. M. Dingman, Green Bay, Wis.: "I would feel lost without your paper."

Mrs. Fred Davis, Mercer, Wis.: "Couldn't think of being without it."

Mrs. A. D. O'Brien, Detroit, Mich.: "We certainly couldn't get along without The Gazette."

Mrs. O'Brien was formerly Miss Margaret McCarr of this city.

E. P. Trautmann, Hollywood, Cal.: "I am enclosing my check for $2.00 so that you will not cut me off from news from you all."

"At present it is very warm here. Had a nice rain yesterday, which, they tell me, is very unusual. Roses, and in fact everything that grows, are beautiful. It is hard to think of you having had frost. Regards to all."

J. Ralph Whiting, Highwood, Mont.: "We certainly do want The Gazette to keep coming. Success to The Gazette."

Mrs. Jennie Myers, Roswell, New Mexico: "I could not get along without the old home paper. Each time I receive it, it is like a letter from home. Although I have been away from Stevens Point for six years and am changing around considerably, there have been very few weeks that I did not receive The Gazette, and in that way know what the people of 'the best old town' are doing and watch the progress of our boys at the front and sympathize with the mothers who have to give their boys for the great cause."

"We have a large military institute here in Roswell and have 400 cadets of whom the people are justly proud. I had the pleasure of witnessing their ceremonies last Tuesday morning, when a unit of the Students' Army Training Corps was officially organized at the same hour that more than 500 colleges and universities were holding exercises, inducting into the army 150,000 young college men."

"I pray victory may come quickly so our young men may be returned soon to their beloved homes."

NEWS REVIEW OF THE GREAT WAR

Kaiser's Back Wall Has Fallen and His Front Wall Is Crumbling Fast.

HINDENBURG LINE SMASHED

Bulgaria Surrenders Unconditionally and Turkey Is Wobbling—St. Quentin and Damascus Captured—Huns Preparing To Get Out of Belgium.

By EDWARD W. PICKARD

The Kaiser put his back to a wall in the vain effort to check the allies on the western front, and the wall collapsed. Bulgaria surrendered, practically unconditionally; Turkey at once put out peace feelers; Austria-Hungary cried for cessation of the war, and the Ukrainians rose in revolt against the Huns.

Meanwhile the allies kept up their ceaseless hammering at the Kaiser's front wall—the Hindenburg line—and by smashing through it at many points proved it was not the impregnable system of defense that the Germans had supposed it to be. From the sea to Verdun the battle blazed day and night and the official reports showed an almost unbroken series of victories for the allies. The Belgian army, assisted by British troops and, unexpectedly, by a French army, jumped into the fray at the beginning of the week, and taking Dixmude and the important Wytschaete ridge, advanced swiftly as far as Roulers. Thereupon the Huns began making preparations that indicated complete withdrawal from Belgium North and south of La Bassée canal they were in full flight, with the British close on their heels, and as Haig's men approached Lille the enemy began the evacuation of that city. The German commander requisitioning all means of transportation to remove his plunder. Investing Roulers, the allies gained control of the railroad to the German submarine bases at Ostend and Zeebrugge and it was reported the foe was removing his heavy guns from the Belgian coast and that the governor general of Belgium had instructed the provincial governors to send all their archives at once to Brussels.

Armentieres and Lens were abandoned by the Huns Tuesday night. In the attack on Cambrai the British, with whom an American contingent was fighting, met with desperate resistance and here and there suffered a local reverse, but they could not be long checked and pushed ahead with decided determination until they had the city at their mercy. The Huns turned vast quantities of stores in their preparations for withdrawal.

Next to the south comes the St. Quentin sector, and there the French under General Debeney, on a great victory, capturing the city after the arduous fighting which was fiercest in and about the St. Quentin canal. This place is one of the key positions of the Hindenburg line, and its capture is regarded as a great step toward the final victory. The French, British, and American troops have been ordered to move forward to the St. Quentin line. The British, aided by the French, have been ordered to move forward to the St. Quentin line. Hilf who have been helping General Alibey are now recognized as Bulgarians by the allied governments. The most important section of Sofia capital of Bulgaria to which the Germans are said to have withdrawn for the French command and the allied forces that entered Bulgaria and at his right General Jovanovic, commander of the Greeks in Serbia.

In Champagne there was no marked change during the week, though both the French and the Americans continued to move forward. The Yankees were up against a hard proposition in the forest of Argonne, where the dense woods were full of machine gun nests and the fighting was almost like a battle in the dark. This style of warfare, however, seemed to suit the Americans and in broken groups they battled their way onward, passing beyond Clerges and always keeping in contact with the retreating enemy. For miles they were hampered by the scarcity of roads, the mud and the innumerable and bravely defended fortified shell craters. They captured during the week great numbers of guns and quantities of material, including three big observation balloons. On the left flank of the Americans Gouraud's Frenchmen fought their way northward with the greatest intrepidity and cut off the Germans opposing them from communication with their comrades in the Argonne forest region. If they can keep up this advance the Huns will find themselves in an awkward pocket. The Germans in this sector were falling back to the so-called Kriemhild line, and captured documents showed they intended to try to hold that line through the winter. The fact is they have no organized line of defense between it and the French border. The Americans in Champagne as well as those in the St. Quentin sector displayed gallantry and dash that have not been surpassed.

The most spectacular exploit of the week was the raid on the Austrian naval base at Durazzo. American, British and Italian warships made their way through the mine fields and completely destroyed the base and all the Austrian vessels in the harbor except a hospital ship. The only damage to the attacking force was the slight injury of a British cruiser by a torpedo.

The Bulgarians in signing the armistice submitted to every demand of the allies, which included demobilizing their army and surrendering the control of all their means of transportation, besides breaking entirely with the other central powers. They even said they were willing to attack Turkey, in conjunction with the allies. Their troops at once began withdrawing from Serbia and all their military supplies were turned over to the forces of the entente. The internal situation in Bulgaria was somewhat confused, but the claims of Berlin that King Ferdinand would remain faithful to the central alliance seemed unfounded. However he evidently feared for his own safety, for he was reported to have taken refuge in a royal castle near Vienna.

Na araly, it will be some time before the allies can reap the full benefits of the Bulgarian surrender in the way of cutting across the "corridor to Bagdad" and isolating Turkey. Meanwhile they continued the task of driving the Austrians and Germans out of Serbia. It was said a large number of German troops were sent to Serbia to try to force Bulgaria to retract her action but these, if there were more likely to be used in defending the communication with Constantinople. When the French, British, Greeks and Italians have advanced far enough to the west, the allied forces will be in a position to move forward to the St. Quentin line.

The apparent determination of the Germans to destroy utterly every city in France and Belgium that they are compelled to relinquish has given rise to a general demand that the allied governments shall warn the Huns that every place wantonly destroyed in any town in Germany will be laid waste to them later on. That is the subject of argument of the German cabinet. Secretary Lansing recognized this when in response to the threat of the Germans to treat it as a war crime, American captured a German ship in his possession. He would be thoroughly and effectively British air bombers. Their first attacks on German cities have been put a stop to the air raids of the Huns. The allied forces have been ordered to move forward to the St. Quentin line.

REMOVE SMALL CANS FROM SYRUP MARKET

Rule Made to Save Tin Plate, Labor and Transportation Facilities

Small cans of syrup and molasses can no longer be bought. After their present stock of them is exhausted the manufacturers will adopt the new schedule for the conservation of tin planned at a meeting with the U. S. Food Administration at Washington.

Three standard sized cans containing 2 1/2, 5 and 10 pounds will be used for syrup and molasses. All small and odd sizes will be discontinued. Packing in small cans calls for needless consumption of steel, tin plate, labor and transportation facilities. A one pound can, for instance, represents a saving in tin of about 20 per cent over 4 ounce cans. In addition, the expense of filling and handling the smaller container is practically equal to that of the larger one which also has the advantage of requiring less shipping space for equal bulk of contents.

THE 80-20 FLOUR SALE RULE WILL NOW APPLY

FORBID DOMESTIC SALE OF POWDERED SUGARS

Stocks Now on Hand May Be Disposed of by Retail and Wholesale Dealers

Effective October 10th powdered sugar may not be sold except for commercial purposes and for commercial baking. According to a letter sent to wholesale and retail dealers by the Food Administration its sale for domestic consumption and to retailers for distribution among domestic consumers is forbidden.

The sale of stocks on hand is permitted by the Federal Food Administration if they were purchased in good faith before this regulation has become known.

LIBERTY CHORUSES BIG AID CHATEAU THIERRY BOY TALKS

Americanization of the Foreign-Born Helps Boost the Fourth Liberty Loan.

Put the Liberty Loan Over From the Jump, Says Wounded Hero.

By PRIVATE SIGURD ARNVIQ

A Chateau Thierry Hero.

There is a marked difference in the third and fourth Liberty loans in the amalgamation of foreign-born citizens with those of native birth.

"Since the third loan we have come to know each other better and to appreciate the contributions each makes toward the new democracy which is the outgrowth of the war," said Mrs. Constantine Howard of the Foreign Language division.

The Liberty chorus of more than 100 voices—representing 32 nationalities—organized under her leadership is one of the great features of the present campaign.

"In the previous campaigns the foreign born workers united their efforts largely to awakening an interest in bond investment among their own nationalities. Now," continued Mrs. Howard, "they are selling the bonds to us, but owing to a difference in organization the amounts subscribed to the fourth loan by the various nationalities will not average so much in reality as they have done heretofore."

"Their enthusiasm has awakened an understanding of the real purpose of the war both among their own peoples and among native-born Americans. Those who came here seeking freedom from oppression have taught us by their enthusiasm to value ever more highly that liberty of which we once sung perhaps more with our lips than our hearts."

"The ever increasing demands for the appearance of the Liberty chorus in Chicago and throughout the district at patriotic events is the best proof of the responsive chord which our foreign born peoples have evoked in American consciousness."

"Through the Liberty loan and the need for universal sacrifice for a common cause has come a wealth of civic betterment, as well as the necessary funds to carry on the fight for world wide liberty. We are being welded into a united peoples through sacrifice. The gold stars which dot the service flags all over the nation—the lending of every available dollar has united us."

"What is your community doing to stimulate this social consciousness in to active patriotic expression? If you are allowing a line to remain between foreign-born and native Americans the true message of the Liberty loan is not reaching the inner consciousness of your community."

"This work of Americanization will go on when the immediate need for raising funds to fight the war to a finish has passed. Nothing can be more inspiring or hopeful for a correlated community life than the entire obliteration of racial differences which had its beginning during the third loan."

BUDGET YOUR BOND BUYING

By MISS GRACE DIXON, Federal Reserve Director for Women Seventh District.

Budget your bonds. Include payments on Fourth Liberty Loan bonds with the meat and groceries—as essentials of every day life. Surely Government Insurance is as necessary an investment as fire or life insurance, which are included in the regular expenses of the household.

If you have never tried a budget start now. Sit down and figure what must be set aside for actual necessities, for recreation, charity or as a sinking fund. Ask yourself whether the amount is adequate.

Then inventory the amount of bonds you are now carrying. Ask yourself whether that amount is adequate in comparison with your table or the sum you spend for amusement.

See if you cannot increase your subscription before the close of the Fourth Liberty Loan campaign. A first payment now, even if made at a sacrifice, will give you courage to meet future payments.

Place your bond payments at the beginning, not the end, of your budget. They are the greatest investment in the world for you, yourself for your future success and your peace of mind when "the boys come home."

"YOU LEND AS THEY FIGHT."

"MR. BUSINESS MAN YOU'VE NOT BEEN HIT UNTIL YOU'VE LOST AN ARM OR A LEG—BUY ALL THE BONDS YOU CAN."

"THAT'S YOUR SHARE IN LIBERTY BONDS? ALL YOU HAVE IN THE BANK AND ALL YOU CAN SAVE."

"WHAT KIND OF A FIGHTER ARE YOU? ANSWER 'HOW MANY DO YOU HAVE YOU BOUGHT?'"

THE PATRIOTIC FARMER

Secretary of Agriculture Says Rural Communities Will Not Fail in This Our Greatest Effort

The Fourth Liberty Loan will not fail for lack of support of American farmers. This is the answer I am giving to those who ask me what the response of the American Farmer will be. I am making this confident assertion on the face of the fact that the American people are now being asked to make a colossal contribution to Liberty Six Billion dollars. American Farmers have demonstrated their patriotic support of the nation's great loans. One of the most striking features of the 3rd Liberty Loan was the support given by the farming and rural populations. Not only did farmers purchase liberally of the bonds, but the rural communities as a rule were more prompt in completing their quotas than the larger cities. More than twenty thousand communities in the United States subscribed or oversubscribed their quotas, many of them on the first day of the campaign. The majority of these were not cities but country districts. Iowa, a typical agricultural state, was the first to subscribe its quota. But we now have a greater effort to make. Our largest war loan has been launched. It will tax our determination to defend our Liberty and our republic at all costs. Our armies in the field are fighting victoriously. The forces at home are now in an offensive that must not fail. Let us buy liberally bonds that we may attain our objective, a righteous and lasting world peace.

FUNERAL OF MRS. BORESON

Ringen, pastor of Trinity Lutheran church, conducted the ceremonies. Mrs. Boreson, whose maiden name was Olene Paulson, was 67 years old on the 27th of last January. After the services at the home, the body was laid to rest in Forest cemetery. Those who acted as pallbearers were Alex Ringness, E. I. Thorske, Ole Olson and Thomas Bronson. Out of town people who were here to attend the funeral were Mrs. Martha Amundson of N. Kaukauna, C. A. PRICES MUST STAND OUT

Articles Shown in Fair Price List Must Be Marked in Plain Figures by Grocers and Meat Dealers. County Food Administrator J. M. Pfiffer has received a new order from the U. S. food administration, which requires dealers in foods upon which a price has been set by the government, to conspicuously display the prices of such foods. The order follows: "To all county and deputy food administrators:—All retail dealers in foods must mark every article shown in the Fair Price list of the county food administrator, which they display for sale, in plain figures large enough so that the figures can be read by the customer standing at the counter, so that the customer will know the price of such articles of food before the same is taken from the shelf, show case or other container. Where there are a number of articles of food of the same kind, price and brand displayed together on a shelf in a show case, one price card is sufficient for the entire display. Food in containers can be marked by a card on the outside of the container. "In the case of meat markets which have glass display cases, it is permissible to mark the price on the glass case opposite the tray containing the meats with white or some other manner, so that the price shall be plain and there can be no mistake as to what article the price refers. "Where articles are sold from the bulk, the price taken should clearly show what unit the price is for, as in case of potatoes, '$1 per bushel,' eggs, '50c. per dozen,' sugar, '11c. per pound,' etc. "Magnus Swenson, "Food Administrator for Wisconsin."

LITTLE BODY LAID AWAY

Further details concerning the tragic death of little Floyd Wheaton at North Platte, Neb., and an account of the funeral services held in Eau Claire last Wednesday, are embodied in the following paragraphs. The manner of his death and other information will be found on the second page of this issue: Floyd's father, Eimer Wheaton, died three years ago and his mother recently married Mr. Musil, a prominent real estate dealer of Hayes Center, Nebraska. Mrs. Musil and little son were in Portage county a short time ago where they accompanied the remains of her mother, the late Mrs. Chris Tufta, to Eau Claire for burial. They had just returned home to Nebraska when the sad accident happened. The body of the little boy was brought to the home of Mrs. Musil's wife, Peter Tufta in Eau Claire, from where the funeral was held last Wednesday afternoon to the Norwegian Lutheran church, with burial in Runkel's cemetery. The obsequies were largely attended, friends coming from Neillsville, Junction City, Dancy and the whole surrounding country. Rev. Thompson of Wausau conducted the services and preached a most impressive sermon. There was congregational singing and Mrs. Knoller of Dancy sang "Face to Face." The pall bearers were his brother Glen and the following little boy friends of the deceased: Howard and Marvin Knoller, George and Edward Kofford of Dancy and Edward Frederickson of Eau Claire.

4,666 STUDENTS ENROLLED

A total of 4,666 students, including 2,577 collegiate S. A. T. C. men, 1,705 women, and 384 civilian men, had enrolled in the University of Wisconsin for the new year up to the end of the regular registration days last week. With the arrival of about 1,000 vocational S. A. T. C. men next week, the total enrollment will exceed 5,500. Late registrations will swell the total. The S. A. T. C. enrollment will be a fluctuating figure, changing with the arrival of new men and departure of others. Although more than 3,000 men applied, as yet only 2,577 have been enrolled and the total will probably increase. The total of 1,705 women nearly reaches the record enrollment of 1,715 last year. Induction of the S. A. T. C. men was accomplished with unexpected rapidity. By Wednesday most of the men were housed under army discipline and drill had begun. Academic work for all students began according to schedule on Thursday. Thus the university enters upon its first term as an army training school, at the same time enrolling more than 2,000 civilian students.

GOING INTO SHEEP RAISING

Linwood Farmer Expects to Buy Big Flock Next Spring—Good Money in Business

Geo. F. Schlobohm of the town of Linwood expects to dispose of most of his cattle this fall and winter, preparatory to going into the sheep raising business on a large scale next spring. Although it costs a good bunch of money to buy a flock of sheep, yet the present prices for meat and wool assure good margins if the animals are given proper care and have plenty of grazing ground. Quite a few acres of Mr. Schlobohm's land are covered with brush, which it is expected the sheep will clear even more thoroughly than it could be done by human hands. His experiment will be watched with much interest by many other farmers hereabouts. The gentleman is now sowing a big field of rye and as his soil seems ideal for raising this grain, a big yield is expected next season.

Orthman has received the official bulletin from Adjutant General Orlando Holway's office at Madison and at drill last Monday evening at the Armory gave the report to the company. The ratings of the regiments and companies of the Wisconsin State Guard were based on inspection of their work at the annual encampments, and each of the following subjects was given a maximum value of ten points and the standings are on a basis of a possible sixty points: Formations.....10 General discipline and police.....10 Military courtesies.....10 Duties of officers.....10 Duties of Noncommissioned officers.....10 Drills, etc.....10 Total.....60 In the relative order of merit by regiments, the Ninth Infantry, of which Co. Among the 16 high companies, our local Co. M was given 11th place with a rating of 51.3, and the 9th infantry stood third in rifle practice by regiments. The Holway diamond badge given as a reward in the officers' competition in estimating distances was won by Major Geo. A. Huntzicker, I. S. A. P., whose percent of error was .055, but the competition being intended primarily for line officers, the winning major waived his right to the medal and the award went to the next high officer, Second Lieut.
